Chapter 109: The Creation and Deployment of Third and Fourth Clones

The Divine Triad, ever vigilant in maintaining balance and expanding their influence across the multiverse, saw the need for greater direct involvement in the key domains of their creations. As a result, Sung Jin-Woo and Sung Su-Ho each created two additional clones. These new entities were tasked with overseeing and strengthening their respective domains, ensuring order and progress.

Third Clones

1. Sung Jin-Woo’s Third Clone

Deployment: Shadowverse Universe

Domain: The realm of the Shadowkins, high beings like high humans, elves, and dwarves.

Purpose: To ensure the Shadowkins’ development aligns with the Divine Triad's vision, focusing on maintaining their loyalty and advancing their society within the vast Shadowverse.

2. Sung Su-Ho’s Third Clone

Deployment: Draconis Lux

Domain: The realm of the Dragonkins, encompassing high dragons, wyverns, wyrms, and drakes.

Purpose: To govern and guide the Dragonkins, ensuring their military might and civilization grow in harmony with the multiverse's grand order.

Fourth Clones

3. Sung Jin-Woo’s Fourth Clone

Deployment: Shadow Abyss

Domain: The realm of the Shadow Lords, materialized shadow soldiers possessing vast shadow worlds.

Purpose: To reinforce the Shadow Lords' role as enforcers and creators, monitoring the growth of their shadow armies and ensuring their shadow worlds expand sustainably.

4. Sung Su-Ho’s Fourth Clone

Deployment: Infernal Zenith

Domain: The realm of the Fiery Dragon Lords, materialized fiery shadow soldiers of immense strength.

Purpose: To guide and empower the Fiery Dragon Lords, ensuring their fiery shadow worlds remain stable and their forces remain loyal and prepared for cosmic conflicts.

The Clones' Attributes and Mission

Each clone carries 5% of the original’s power, making them formidable entities in their own right, capable of wielding near-limitless might in their domains.

They act as direct extensions of Sung Jin-Woo and Sung Su-Ho, embodying their personalities and will while adapting to the unique needs of their assigned realms.

The deployment of these clones emphasizes the Divine Triad's commitment to closely overseeing their creations and maintaining a harmonious multiverse.

With these additional clones in place, the Divine Triad’s influence becomes even more pervasive, securing their dominion over the multiverse's intricate web of worlds and beings.